Week Ending Friday 27 March 2020

Coronavirus (COVID-19)

As we come to the end of our first week of 'working and learning from home' we hope that students have found the process of finding the work that staff are setting for them is straightforward but, more importantly, that they are also allowing themselves some down-time away from their studies.

There are numerous Apps that are available to you – many which are now free to use. It is also worth looking on YouTube, which has a vast amount of educational tools which will help to vary your learning. Don't forget also, that you should be trying to keep active and Joe Wicks, for example, has a 9.00am exercise slot every morning, specifically designed to be done in your living room.

We are continuing to monitor the information that the Government are releasing and will act upon this when appropriate however, in the meantime, if you are struggling to access work, or just have a query for a member of staff, you can go to our website where you will find contact details for all staff: <https://www.beths.bexley.sch.uk/page/?title=Teaching+Staff&pid=123>.

Beths Premier League Football

As you are probably aware, the Headteacher is an avid football fan and, we thought it might be a bit of fun, in these uncertain times, to continue the Premier League – simply by rolling a dice. The last two weeks of postponed fixtures have been adjudged and the scores are detailed below – some quite surprising ones at that! You will also find the updated league tables and, looking at the scores, we think there may be some changes to what the pundits had been predicting.

The next league matches were to take place on 4 April and the 'scores' will be available shortly after this date. Even though Mr Blyghton is a super keen Chelsea supporter, you can rest assured that he isn't being allowed to use weighted dice.
